Palliative & End-of-Life
Care Support Guide

Supporting Your Pet with Comfort, Dignity & Love

Palliative care focuses on maintaining your pet's comfort and dignity in their final chapter — whether due to chronic illness, advanced age, or terminal diagnosis.

We're here to support you both emotionally and medically, every step of the way.

❤️ What We Can Offer

Each care plan is customized to your pet's needs and may include:

- Pain relief (anti-inflammatories, opioids, nerve stabilizers) via oral, transdermal, or patch
- Hydration/nutrition support via IV, syringe, or feeding tube
- Anti-nausea & appetite stimulants (oral, injectable, transdermal)
- Mobility aids (joint supplements, acupuncture, assistive gear)
- Hygiene support (pads, wipes, diapering tips)

🏠 Home Setup Tips

- Soft bedding in a quiet, low-traffic area
- Keep food & water within easy reach
- Use non-slip mats for stability
- Clean and dry skin regularly to avoid sores or urine scald
- Minimise stress and overstimulation

📊 Monitoring Quality of Life

Here's a gentle checklist to help assess comfort:

Need	Questions to Ask
Appetite	Is your pet still eating voluntarily?
Pain	Are there signs of discomfort, limping, panting, or hiding?
Mobility	Can your pet get up, walk, or toilet without distress?
Hygiene	Is your pet clean and free of sores or scalding?
Interaction	Is your pet still responsive to loved ones or enjoying small pleasures?

💬 When to Discuss Euthanasia

We will walk you through the process gently, including:

- Sedation for calmness before euthanasia drug is administered
- Quiet setting and time for family
- Options for private cremation or group cremation (We do not offer aftercare in-house but can connect you with trusted pet memorial providers.)

⚠️ Contact Us or Any Nearby/Emergency Vet If You Notice:

- Laboured breathing or gasping
- Cluster Seizures
- Collapse or inability to stand
- Uncontrolled vomiting or pain
- Sudden rapid deterioration

💗 A Final Word

Caring for a pet in their final phase is one of the kindest, most courageous things you can do.

We are here to guide and support you — with honesty, gentleness, and deep respect.
